

Just moved from the State of Indiana, so am sending comments re my personal experience. Their law greatly reduced the number of nuisance calls I received. If phone service was free like radio and these calls paid for the service, there may be an argument for letting more calls, but that is not the case. Should be a Federal Law restricting junk calls.